

S

c

ca

c

ROYAL SOCIETY

S

ic

ca

c i

1. The first two steps are to identify the variables and to determine the relationships between them. This is done by drawing a flowchart or a diagram showing the flow of information from the input variables to the output variables.